

Romey Curtis

I am a lifelong Anglican/Episcopalian. I have been active in everything Emmanuel has to offer. I enjoy reading the lessons, telling stories as part of At the Parish House, and providing hospitality at coffee hour. Prior to coming to Middleburg, to be close to my daughter who lives in The Plains, I lived in Hawaii where I owned Aloha Adventure Activities. Besides a lifelong career in theatre, both professionally and in community theatre, I have worked as a journalist for publications such as The Tico Times, Severna Park Village Voice, and Woman's Day. I am also the author of two books. One is a mystery novel entitled His Death of Cold. The other is a biography of Jennie Jerome the mother of Winston Churchill.
