

Andrea Weyer

Andrea is a 20-year former Middleburg area resident and, for the last 18 years, has been living on her family horse farm in Jeffersonton with her brother, Roger Morgan, her daughter, Susanna, and her granddaughter, Rachel (who is a senior at Colgate University). She is a former vestry member and has been a member of Emmanuel for 40 years.

Thirty-five years ago, she completely surrendered her life to God. He guided her to change course from many years as a therapeutic riding instructor, to become the leading edge of equine nutrition and health. Her God-driven business called HorseSense, through the nutritional expertise of her late husband, Karl Donaghy, sits by the railroad tracks at Belvoir (on Rt. 709). Her mission: To serve God, serve the animals, serve the people who love them.
